

PRIVACY POLICY

Anannynetwork.com is committed to protecting your privacy. We only use the information that you provide to process your service requests and interface with you in a professional business manner.

How do we use your information?

When you decide to utilize anannynetwork.com services to recruit applicants or to find a job, we may need to know certain personal information, including your name, mail address, email address, phone number, and credit card information (for Membership and for our Full Service programs). This information allows us to register you in our database and to perform agreed-to billing functions.

If you submit an application, partial or complete, as an employer or as an applicant, your information will be stored in our database. The storage of this information allows you to return with your valid password and quickly renew your account without having to complete your entire profile again.

How do we protect your information?

When collecting any required credit card information at anannynetwork.com, we protect the security of your information during transmission by using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) software, which encrypts the information you input to prevent eavesdropping. Our SSL certificate is provided by GoDaddy.com.

Your credit card number and CCV2 security code are processed directly against our payment gateway, PayPal and other Merchant Services, also over an SSL connection. For your protection, our server does not log or store these values.

What about "Cookies"?

"Cookies" are small pieces of information that are stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive. Anannynetwork.com uses cookies to help make your use of the site more convenient. Anannynetwork.com does not store personal data such as passwords, addresses, telephone numbers, or credit card information in cookies.

Cookies enable us to provide features such as access to resume data and generation of communication between applicant and employer that identifies the parties. For example, once you successfully log on to the site, a cookie is placed on your browser that indicates that you have logged on. This prevents you from having to provide your ID number and password repeatedly as you use the site. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can change your browser to prevent that. However, if you disable cookies on your browser our recruiting interface will not work for you.

By default, the cookies that anannynetwork.com places on your browser are eliminated once you shut down your browser. This prevents another user of your computer from spoofing your identity on the site.

Do we disclose your information to third parties?

Anannynetwork.com does not sell, trade, or rent your information to unaffiliated third parties.

Visits made to other Web sites from links or advertising on www.anannynetwork.com

Although anannynetwork.com's site may include links and advertising to other Internet sites, anannynetwork.com takes no responsibility for the content or information contained on those sites. Anannynetwork.com provides these links and advertisements as a benefit and service of to our members, but we have no control over those sites. Other sites that you visit may have their own distinct privacy policies or no policy at all. They may use personal information that you may provide them differently than our policy permits. Anannynetwork.com strongly encourages you to review the privacy policies of any site before providing any personal information to them.

By using our website, you consent to the accumulation of information by anannynetwork.com. If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on this page so that you are always aware of what information we accumulate and how we use it. Please send your comments about privacy to us via email at info@anannynetwork.com.